Throughout this turbulent time in medicine, the FMA has been working diligently to fulfill our mission of Helping Physicians Practice Medicine.

Advocating for Physicians

As the Voice of Medicine in Florida, the FMA has been advocating for physicians on the following legislative and regulatory issues:

- Sent multiple letters and lobbied Insurance Commissioner Altmaier for an Order requiring telehealth coverage on par with CMS’ recent changes for the Medicare program, and for an order prohibiting insurance companies from imposing prior authorization requirements during the state of emergency.

- Sent this letter and met with the Governor to request an Executive Order providing medical liability protections for physicians during the declared state of emergency.

- Joined the AMA and more than 100 medical societies in sending a letter urging the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to provide more financial relief for physician practices.

- Helped craft a letter from the Big 4 Medical Societies (Florida, California, Texas, and New York) outlining our priorities in the federal COVID-19 legislation, which was sent to our congressional delegation.

- Continuing to work with our federal lobbyists, member organizations, and other state medical societies to gather intel and coordinate advocacy related to COVID-19.

- Monitoring guidance from CMS and seeking policy guidance and clarification as needed.

The FMA is a Resource

The FMA has been a trusted resource for physicians in navigating the complicated changes to medical payments and regulation. All of the following resources can be found on the FMA Coronavirus Resource Center page.

The FMA is a Leader

The FMA has been a leader in providing telehealth resources so that physicians can continue seeing patients while keeping themselves and their patients safe. We are:

- Providing resources through the Telehealth Initiative to assist practices in quickly and efficiently implementing telehealth platforms.
- Vetting telehealth vendors.
- Advocating for expanded payment parity for telehealth visits.
